

BRIGHT HORIZONS TRUCK DAY BEST PRACTICES: NUT-FREE BAKE SALE/SNACK TABLE

2 - 3 MONTHS PRIOR TO TRUCK DAY:

Nut-free Bake Sale/Snack Table:

Children (and adults) work up an appetite during Truck Day, so having a Snack Table is a great addition.

Some suggestions for setting up your Bake Sale/Snack Table:

- Choose four nut-free baked goods (rice krispie treats, blueberry muffins, chocolate chip cookies, and brownies) that can be made by local moms and separated by them into "$1-sized" pieces in Ziploc bags. These can be dropped off the morning of the event or prior to the event. This is an ideal way for Bright Horizons family members to participate—especially if they bake with their children. It is a good idea to charge $1 for each item—making the price the same for everything keeps things simple.
- Purchase nut-free individual snack packs of goldfish, chips, fruit roll ups, crackers, apples and bananas, and sell them for $1/each (parents are always appreciative of healthy options in addition to bake sale items)
- Offer juices boxes and bottled water for $1/each
- Have a local coffee shop (i.e., Dunkin Donuts) donate boxes of coffee and hot chocolate and sell cups for $1/each

At the end of every Truck Day, you can donate leftover Snack Table and Bake Sale items to a local family shelter. It is easy to call and locate one nearby. They are always so appreciative!
